How Does It Seem to You? It seems to me I'd like to go Where bells don't ring, nor whistles

Nor clocks don't strike, nor gongs don't And I' have stillness all around.

Not real stillness, but just the trees' whisperings, or the hum of the bees rooks' faint babbling over stones In strangely, softly tangled tones.

Or maybe a cricket or katydid, Or the songs of the birds in hedges hid, Or just some such sweet sounds as these To fill a tired heart with case.

If 'twernt for sight and sound and smell I'd like a city pretty well, But when it comes to getting rest 1 like the country lots the best.

Sometimes it seems to me I must
Just quit the city's din and dust
And get out where the sky is blue;
And say, how does it seem to you?

The Blood Royal.

The Blood Royal.

Mrs. Ellen Meade Clarke has received from London "The Plantagenet Roll of the Blood Royal" by Marquis de Ruvigny, containing a genealogy of the descendants of George, Duke of Clarence. The Meade family of Virginia are the only Americans descended from that branch of royalty, and ten pages of the book treat of its various members.

Sterrett-Pole.

Sterrett—Pole.

A very pretty home wedding took place Wednesday evening at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Henry S. Pole, when their daughter, Margaret Pole, better known as Dalsy, was married to Mr. Thomas A. Storrett, Jr., of Hot Springs. Only relatives and old friends of the family were invited, but the display of wedding gifts received was most elaborate, for the young people were well remembered by friends far and near.

Rev. John G. Scott, of Richmond, rector of St. Lake's, Hot Springs, officiated, and the marriage was in a bower of green, under a bell of white asters in one end of the drawing room. Miss Lyda Pole was maid of honor, and Dr. Pole gave his daughter away. She was very handsome in a white lace gown with long vell of tulle and carried an immense bouquet of tillies of the valley. Reid Sterrett, brother of the bridgaroom, from Dexington, Va., was best man. The Mendlessohn wedding march was played by Miss Serby. Little children of Dr. Edgar Vole, carried the ribbons. A bouffer supper was served later, and at 10 o'clock the bridal couple started for their future home at Bath, Alum Springs, amid a shower of rice. The drive of ten miles was made by carriage.

Ruan-Bristow.

Ruan—Bristow.

A very pretty wedding of interest to Richmond people occurred yesterday at 12 o'clock, noon, in Washington, at the home of the brida's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Bristow, 1603 T Street, Northwest, Miss Bertha Bristow was married to Mr. Addison Tinsley Ruan, formerly of Macon, Ga. Mr. Ruan is now disbursing officer of the Philippina government, Bureau of Insular Affairs, and is a young man with a very promising future. Miss Bristow is well known in the musical circles of Washington. Her home has been in the city for the past fificen years and she has a large circle of friends.

TWO SONS.

By ROBERT BUCHANAN.

Robert Buchanan was born in Glasgow in 1841; died in London, John 10, 1991. He was educated at the University of Glasgow. He was a writer of dramae, ballads and magazine articles. His collected poems have been published in three volumes.

HAVE two sons, wife-Two, and yet the same; One his wild way runs, wife, Bringing us to shame. The one is bearded, sunburnt, grim, and fights across the sea, The other is a little child who sits upon your knee.

One is fierce and cold, wife, As the wayward deep; -Him no arms could hold, wife,

Him no breast could keep.
He has tried our hearts for many a year, not broken them; for he Is still the sinless little one that sits upon your knee.

One may fall in fight, wife-

One may fact in fight, who—

Is he not our son?

Pray with all your might, wife,

For the wayward one;

Pray for the dark, rough soldier, who fights across the sea.

Because you love the little shade who smiles upon your knee.

One across the foam, wife, As I speak may fall; But this one at home, wife, Cannot die at all.

They both are only one; and how thankful should we be, We cannot lose the darling son who sits upon your knee!

lax are suspended from the chandellers to the corners of the rooms. Father Deherty, of St. Mary's Cathelle Church, will perform the ceremony at 5 d'clock before an improvised altar, in the presence of the relatives and only the most intimate friends of the bride and groom. The bride, who will wear a going-away gown of blue broadcloth, handsome lace waist and hat and gloves to correspond, will be given away by her father. She will carry a white prayer book. They will have no attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Philips will leave immediately after the marriage for a Northifficen years and she has a large circle of friends.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Samuel H. Greene, D. D., of Calvary Baptist Church, in the presence of amal company of friends. Mr. Ruan recently lost his mother by death, and the marriage was therefore very quiet. The rooms in the home were decorated with palms and flowers. Breakfast was served immediately following the ceremony, and the young couple left on the 1 o'clock train for Boston and other Eastern points.

The bride received a large number of beautiful presents from friends in the South and West, and in the city.

constitution of the club was formally adopted.

The constitution provides for the election by the board of two members of the student body of the college as additional members of the board. The gentlemen selected for this honor were James Graham, of Graham's Forge, from the Senior Class, and Walker Pegram Warren, of Bacon's Castle, from the Junior Class. Miss Susan Venable was appointed chairman of the house committee, which is to be composed of the two student members of the board and two other students elected by the members of the club at large.

elected by the members of the club at large.

The opening reception of the club was hold in the club rooms Monday evening, and was the most brilliant social event for some time. The club rooms were tastofully decorated with the college colors of garnet and gray, and attractively, draped and festooned with a display of college banners. The tables were decorated with roses, and the reception room presented a most plessing appearance, with a profusion of goldenred and other autumnal plants admirably arranged by the young ladies in charge.

The whole student body, the faculty and the community were invited. The reception lasted from 8 to 10, when dancing began in the ball-room. During the entire reception refreshments were served with a lavish hand.

SOCIETY FILLED WITH GRAFT

Prostitution of Office No Longer

The pastor of the First Baptist Church of Media, Pa., Dr. George Cooper, former-ly of the First Baptist Church, this city, preached an interesting and timely sermon last Sunday morning on "The Easy Dollar and How it is Made." The text of the sermon was the primary word of God regarding graft and bribery. "Thou shall take no gift for the gift blindeth the cause of the righteous." This matter of common conversation in every circle should be a matter of instruction in the house of God from a proper point of view. The speaker said: "The age is materialistic. Money with its power of pleasure and influence is the great aim of life. 'Put but money in thy purse. Fill thy purse with money,' is the popular motto. Wealth is the end of life, as a result the methods of making money were never so little regarded in a moral way. As Ben Johnson says' 'Get money, boys no matter by, what means.' Men who make money the end of life do not soruple to sacrifice every virtue for the sake of obtaining, bocause they will have it. They would prefer to have it, maintain honor and truth, if it might be. But as they will sacrifice honor and truth for it. We have been called the worshiper, of the almighty dollar. In our money-worship, a new disease has broken out among our people, a craze for the easiest dollar at any cost of moral principle. Graft is the advanced stage of the craze for uncarned pioney. Our whole social fabric is honey-combed with it. Motives of venality, self-seeking and disregard of the claims of honor and right are so general that they do not cause any surprise. Prostitution of office for an easy dollar no longer shocks us.

The One Bright Spot. of life. 'Put but money in thy purse.

The One Bright Spot.

"It is terrible. It is a good sign of moral health that it is being exposed. The bright spot in the swamp of moral degradation is the fact that the degradation to the spot of the state of the spot o tion is made known. Graft cannot exist without being discovered after a while. Be sure your sin will find you out. Cleaning up tained money is the new Be sure your sin will find you out. Cleaning up tainted money is the new antiseptic game. Every one is in it. Public exposures of grafted men are public benefactions. All honor to the public press in this work. The dread of exposure in the daily newspapers keeps many a man close to the path of rectitude who otherwise would stray off into the ways of personal graft. Publicity is the one great punishment that stares graft and bribery in the face.

"One cause of this condition is the decay of personal responsibility caused by the materialistic theories of life. Why are sincerity and honesty so generally admired, even if they are not always practiced? It is because their architype exists in the moral nature of God, and that we, being His creatures, ought to be like Him. 'Ought' means duty. Duty that we, being His creatures, ought to be like Him. 'Ought' means duty, Duty reminds us of one to whom something is due. Why is in my duty to do or not do this? Because f am personally related to God by my creation, and His character is my standard of conduct. But if I am only a fortuitous concourse of atoms, the product of natural forces, and my fellow man is the same, and we toth believe 'the gospel of dirt,' why should I do what is right toward him or he towards me? Morality has no sane-tion—no basis. Let a man make himself he towards me? Morality has no sanction—no basis. Let a man make himself believe that he is not divinely made, divinely obligated; he will soon hear echoes in his soul that as a robber, breaker of trust, speculator, he is no more blameworthy than honest men and reformers and saints are praiseworthy.

"Utilitarian Morals."

"Utilitarian Morals."

"Utilitarian morals are another cause. Utility is the supreme end of moral action. Success is the standard of life. If a man steals or receives a bribe, is found out and goes to prison, he has only falled in his aim and has been unfortunate. If he is not found out and goes to Congress and dies in the odor of bribery, he has succeeded, and we are not to condemn him in the heat of his temptation."

The sermon was heard by a large congregation and made a deep impression in its delivery. Many persons expressed in its delivery. Many persons expressed gratitude to Dr. Cooper for it.

Throws Rocks in His Home.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch).

GladDESBORO, VA., Sept. 21.—Daniel
Tate shot and killed W. A. Allen yestorday in the southern part of Carroll country. Allen went to Tate's house and began throwing rocks in the house at Mr. Tate, finding himself hemmed in so he could not get away, tried first to get Allen to stop throwing rocks, but without success, and then shot him twice. One load took effect in the breast, the other in the head, killing him instantly. Allen had the reputation of being a dangerous man. There have been three murders committed in that section in less than twelve months.

Tate is not trying to get away, although he is shunning Allen's friends, for fear of heing roughly treated by them.
